Board eyes annex of Bowles Road

The Antioch Village Board is considering the annexation of Bowles Rd. Of the 11 homes on the road, the residents of at least six of them are interested in annexing to the village.

"I think that's a good start. We won't get the four summer residents unless we force it," Antioch Village Mayor Raymond P. Toft said.

The village has also given the Lake County Housing Authority an informal go-ahead to study the possibility of building clusters of houses designed specifically for senior citizens.

After the board officially had adjourned for the evening, Robert J. Cisek, executive director, Lake County Housing Authority, presented the preliminary plan.

The board told Cisek it would be interested in hearing more detailed information about the plan and that the housing authority should study the possibility in more depth.

Currently, the housing authority is building low-income housing in Antioch for senior citizens. Those interested in residing in the homes would not need to qualify for low-income housing. Cisek said the housing authority would act more in the role of a caretaker of the homes than anything else.

The proposed cluster housing would allow seniors who have been homeowners to retain some of the advantages of owning their own home while eliminating some of the disadvantages, Cisek said.

The seniors would purchase anywhere from 30 or 40 to 100 percent of the house, with a private corporation picking up the rest of the purchase price. Corporations willing to invest in the purchase of these homes will be sought, and details of the plan will be worked out when Antioch gives the final okay.

Cisek said the homes would be designed with energy efficiency in mind and the possibility of handicapped people residing in the home.

The board will hear more details as they become available.

Elizabeth's okay

Sobczak Thanksgiving an extra special one

by GLORIA DAVIS

Much like the majority of people in the Antioch area, the Wayne Sobczak family gave thanks to God for all its blessings before viciously attacking its traditional Thanksgiving bird.

"We had a lot to be thankful for this Thanksgiving, the fact that we still have two daughters," said Wayne Sobczak.

The Sobczak's are especially thankful that it now appears that they will have two healthy daughters if Elizabeth, 6, shows no further adverse reactions to the accident in front of St. Peter's Church on Friday, Oct. 28.

Elizabeth had been waved across the street by one driver and was struck by another car, carried 90 feet on the hood of the car and then dragged 20 feet on the street.

Wayne has been on the Antioch Rescue Squad for several years and is presently a lieutenant, second in command of the squad. He was working at his part-time position at Westosha Emergency Center in Silver Lake, where his job is equivalent to that of a paramedic in Illinois, when the accident happened as his daughter was leaving St. Peter's following an after-school activity.

"We called Wayne immediately at Westosha," said Capt. Dave Heath of the Antioch Rescue Squad, "and then took Elizabeth there where they did an hour's stabilization check on her facial and head injuries before Wayne took her to Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan."

The Sobczaks know that God was with them and their daughter, because the accident situation called for serious or possible fatal injuries.

Elizabeth was hospitalized with a concussion and a severe forehead laceration over the weekend and was brought home Sunday night.

She then saw the other side of Halloween "trick or treating" when she spent that time in a chair by the door and did the handing out of the treats.

St. Peter's students had Monday and Tuesday off, so she returned to school with the rest of her class on Wednesday under careful supervision.

"By the next week she was back on her regular schedule, taking the bus to school and everything," said her father. Elizabeth has retained a scar from the forehead laceration which will take further medical attention.

The second grader herself has shown how thankful she is for all the people on the rescue squad, at the emergency center and friends who helped her when she needed it by taking out ads in several papers expressing her gratitude.

Elect three Chamber directors

Three new directors have been elected to serve the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Raymond D. DeMartini, attorney, Wayne Vivirito, King's Drugs Store and Richard Paddock, Lakes Advertiser, will be installed at the Chamber's annual installation dinner dance, slated for Jan. 27.

They are expected to attend the December Chamber board meeting to get acquainted with their duties but will not officially take office until after the installation in January.

Jaycees arrange for Santa to call

Once again this year, the Antioch Jaycees have arranged for a direct phone line to Antioch from Santa at the North Pole. Santa will be calling youngsters in Antioch on the evenings of Dec. 5 and 6, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

In order to arrange for a phone call from Santa to your house, obtain a form from one of the local schools, fill it out, and return it to school.

In other events, it was reported that the Jaycee Haunted House was quite successful again this year, according to Chairman Bob Kelly. He mentioned that the support of the State Bank of Antioch was very important and the Jaycees are grateful to them for the use of their facility.

Jaycees plan breakfast

On Sunday, Dec. 11, the Antioch Jaycees are running "Breakfast with Santa" at the Windjammer Restaurant. All you can eat pancakes and sausage breakfast will be served from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The Windjammer Restaurant is two miles west of Rte. 59 on Rte. 173. Donation is $2.75 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12.

Several local businesses are helping to sponsor the breakfast in order that Camp New Hope receive as much benefit as possible. These businesses are: The Advertiser, Jude Larson Printers, Antioch Pizza, First Bank of Antioch, Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, The Car Store, and Nielsen Enterprises.

The goal of the project, according to Chairman Matt

Branyik, is to raise funds to sponsor campers to Camp New Hope. Camp New Hope is a residential summer camp for exceptional children.

Camp facilities and staff are designed to offer a fulfilling camping experience to these youngsters whose physical or emotional conditions preclude attendance at other summer camps. Camp New Hope is located in East Central Illinois near Mattoon.

Camp New Hope is owned, operated, and financed solely by the Illinois Jaycees. It receives or seeks no tax support. President Reagan has said that the private sector must do more in taking care of the American people without putting an additional burden on the tax payers. Camp New Hope is a wonderful example of this.

Shopkeepers to offer movies for children

The fun of Thanksgiving is behind us, the lights are flickering on the official community Christmas tree, so Christmas can't be far behind.

To make Christmas shopping easier for mom and day this year, members of the Antioch Chamber's retail group will be hosting children's movies at the Antioch Theater three successive Saturday mornings, Dec. 3, 10 and 17.

Movies will be free and children will also receive candy canes and be able to visit with Santa, according to Larry Hanson of BJ's Fashions For Men, a retail group member. A 10-speed and a 16-inch bicycle will also be given away each weekend from tickets drawn from a hat. Bicycle prizes have been provided by the village's three financial institutions.

While tickets to the shows are free, you must pick them up at participating merchants. Seating is limited and there will be no tickets available at the door. Tickets for the Dec. 10 show will not be available until the week just prior to that show. Tickets for the Dec. 17 show will not be made available until the week just prior to that show.

Participating merchants who will provide tickets include: Antioch Drugs, Antioch True Value Hardware, Barnstable's Department Store, Ben Franklin, BJ's Fashions For Men, Erickson's Sewing Center, First National Bank, Foremost Liquors, Gibbs and Jensen's Carousel, The Globe of Antioch, Inland Outlet, Guided Cage, Antioch Keepsake Diamond Center, GreatAmerican Savings and Loan, Jack's Four Squires, McDonald's Restaurant, Paulson's Dietary Foods, Sears Roebuck of Antioch, State Bank of Antioch, and Tony White Shoes.

Shows will begin at 10 a.m. and run until about noon, Hanson said. The show for Dec. 3 will be "Challenge of Lassie." The Dec. 10 show will be "Tom Thumb" and the Dec. 17 show will be "Pinocchio's Greatest Adventure."

To be eligible for the bicycles, children will be asked to write their name on their ticket stub and turn it in. Winners must be present at the end of the show for the drawing to win.

Also to make holiday shopping in Antioch easier, the retail group has announced general store hours for Antioch's retail merchants. Some stores may vary. Suggested store hours during the holidays only will be Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

ACHS, Rotary to show 'Christmas Carol'

"A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens has become one of the most traditional programs to be presented in the Christmas Season. A new, and exciting version of this classic will be performed by the Shakespeare Festival of Chicago production group on the stage of Antioch Community High School on Saturday evening, Dec. 10. Curtain time for the show will be 8 p.m.

This special program is being sponsored as a joint venture between the drama division of the high school fine arts department and the Antioch Rotary Club.

Because of Rotary sponsorship, the cost for a ticket has been held to a bare minimum $1 for all seats. All income from the show will be used by Rotary to sponsor summer theatre scholarships.

The Hawthorn Carolers, the extremely popular singing group from Hawthorn Center, will also be featured during the evening's performance.

It is certain to be an extremely popular way to start off your Christmas season, so get your tickets early. Tickets are available from all drama students at the high school.

Junior Vikes lose

The loss dropped the juniors out of contention in the play-offs. The first half was an evenly contested game with Mundelein up by a score of 6-0.

Interceptions in the third quarter set up two additional scores by Mundelein. The Vikings scored in the fourth quarter on a 35-yard pass from quarterback, Gary Hammond, to tightend Ken Litchfield.

The point after touchdown was scored on a pass to Robert Sykes.

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

With all the controversy and slander being thrown around I thought it would be a good time to voice my inner feelings about the Trevor House episode.

I feel that my rights as a human being were grossly violated which meant nothing in a court of law to some people.

Fighting in Viet Nam and being wounded, I thought returning home, life would mellow out and I could go on with my life.

My compensation for my wounds was denied because they lost my medical records.

I couldn't find a job because they said I was an insurance risk with all the scars on my knee.

Housing was difficult with an income of $331 a month.

Well, with a family of four I found an apartment at Trevor and North Ave. for $300 a month utilities included.

Well it met our income. I was told the leaky roof, floor, broken windows and wiring would be fixed within the month. I handed $600 to the management in good faith that she would stand by her word.

That was over six months ago. Things got worse not better. Every time I mentioned the repairs, I was told "no money for repairs." But I watched the managers new roof go on and new furniture brought in.

It kind of made me wonder. Then when my children came down with staff infection, illness from mosquitos, I was fed up. And so the Trevor House difference developed.

I was offered maintenance work along with my son in return for a rent decrease.

The rent was increased from $300 to $365, way over my limit.

Then when the first article in the news came out about Trevor House with a comment from my wife, I was told get out.

With my income that was almost out of the question. I tried to find housing even in Wisconsin to no avail.

Then one day the manager and some new tenants came and put all my belongings out in the rain.

I lost and had all my belongings ruined by the rain. So I was in twice as bad shape as when I moved in.

Indirectly I was accused of vandalism among other things. And all I wanted was out. A person can take just so much.

I feel this letter may help bring to light a little of what goes on that people don't know about.

Your and my family's Thanksgiving and Christmas is kind of up in the air. After all what do we have to be thankful for?

James W. Warner

All and any responses would be greatly appreciated. Please send to James Warner, Antioch News, Antioch, Ill.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Happy Birthday to Ricky Apostol and Fire Chief Todd Mapleshorpe.

Upon the completion of the intersection work at Rtes. 173 and 59 and 83, one might wonder how the traffic lanes delineated on the street will be determined by drivers when the snow covers the streets.

And I still think it would eliminate the chance of many accidents if cars were not allowed to exit from the Jewel-Osco parking lot onto Rte. 173.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas DeFer have just taken over the Antioch Cab Co., and already are extending the service hours from 6 a.m. to midnight. They are also planning on putting another cab into service soon.

PM&L will sponsor an actor's workshop at 7:30 p.m., on Wednesday, Nov. 30, at the theater n Main St..

I understand that the title that members of the VFW give each other, Comrade, is in national practice but I wish they'd change it to Friend or Brother or something else. Somehow that word has too much Soviet identification as far as old Annie Mae is concerned. I find this especially displeasing when used by a patriotic organization.

Its good to finally see a flag flying from the pole in front of the Antioch Township office, even though it was at half mast last week.

What was the reason for that Mr. Fields?

Word is that "Footlights '83" brought in double the profits of the first production last year. All those willing workers deserve a large pat on the back.

When I think about it Is admitting sacred cows top form of prejudice?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Most media people are aware of several "sacred cows," encroachment on which is guaranteed to draw the ire of many of their readers.

Now I'm not referring to those well-known American idols, Mom, kids, dogs, the flag or apple pie.

The 1983 list of supposed "untouchables" includes senior citizens who have lots of time to let you know they didn't like what you wrote and their growing numbers make any of their objections quite formidable.

Rule number two, if you want to remain uncontroversial, is never question anyone in the teaching profession. The slightest suggestion that every teacher isn't underpaid and completely dedicated to the enlightenment of each and every student, will bring the entire membership of the National Education Assn., NEA, crashing down on top of any editor's compugraphic machine.

Then we have the volunteer members of local emergency squads. Any questions that might imply that these departments are not functioning to absolute perfection might bring joking threats about their reaction to that writer's house burning. I personally know about that one.

There is no question that all citizens owe these people much gratitude for the many hours they dedicate to the safety of all, but should this be confused with credit for infallibility?

Then we have the so-called minorities. Why is it that they "must" be handled with softer gloves than the supposed average white, middle class American.

I have been told that some newspapers have a policy of deleting a person's skin color when giving a description of a wanted criminal.

As far as I'm concerned this is racism at its strongest. Describing someone physically without giving the color of their skin is the same as deleting the color of their hair, eyes or the clothing they were last seen wearing.

Yet downright cruel cartoons lampooning the President of the United States are found in the printed media almost daily and any public outcry against insulting our number one citizen is rarely heard.

It seems that politicians, police departments and entertainers are considered fair play because "they belong to the people."

I was always under the impression that fairness and equality went hand and hand, therefore all people and all groups should be open to fair questioning along with the opportunity to answer.

The fact that someone might doubt their behavior at some given time is what keeps many on the straight and narrow.

Beware of the time when anybody and any group is above these queries from the media because big brother will have arrived and will be watching you.

Camera takeouts at Antioch Library

The Antioch Township Library is participating in "Check This Out," a program providing free instant cameras to public libraries throughout the United States.

The cameras, which are from the Sun series, feature built-in electronic flash and one-button operation.

Sponsored by the customer service division of Polaroid Corp., the program is being offered in cooperation with the American Library Assn. (ALA).

According to program manager, Victoria Carr, the idea of borrowing a camera from the library isn't as unusual as it may seem.

"Libraries offer a wide variety of services and materials to patrons," she said. "Instant cameras are a natural for an information-oriented facility like the public library."

Peggy Barber, director of public information for the ALA, said, "This is the first time that a corporation has made a commitment on this scale to the nation's libraries. When times are tough and library budgets tight, we hope other companies will follow Polaroid's example."

At the Antioch Township Library, persons 18 years or older with a valid library card may borrow a camera for up to seven days. Patrons must supply their own film.

Jaycees assemble

Jaycees and Jaycee women from throughout Illinois gathered at the Woodfield Hyatt Hotel in Schaumburg on Nov. 18, 19, and 20 for their fall general assembly.

The weekend was filled with various jaycee activities including public speaking competition (Speakup), Armbruster and Brownfield competitions designed to test the Jaycee's knowledge and involvement.

The weekend also included numerous forums on membership, activation, extensions and other interesting items.

Matt Branyik and Chuck Spillner were finalists in the Brownfield and Armbruster competitions. Craig Dayton ran a forum on Shooter's Education and Don Goodwin presented a forum on Jaycee/Dept. of Conservation safety courses.

The highlight of the weekend was a program presented Saturday afternoon regarding "Make a Difference Days", for Camp New Hope. This is the Jaycee's children's camp located in central Illinois. This campaign will involve numerous chapters throughout Illinois to raise funds for the camp on Nov. 25 and 26.

Representing the Antioch Jaycees were Dayton, Spillner, Branyik, Goodwin and Larry Sachs.

The Jaycees are a leadership training organization open to young people between the ages of 21 thru 36. For more information regarding Jaycees in your community, contact Dayton at (312) 546-4887.

Olson, head of the 1.96 million member organization of overseas veterans commented, "It is because of the tireless efforts of civic and patriotic minded citizens like Comrade Egem that the veterans and communities the VFW serves have been affected in a positive manner."

"Our programs touch every citizen in the community."

Fair association on hunt

The Lake County Fair Assn. is looking for current addresses of its former fair queens, according to Walter Krumrey, fair secretary.

"We have been asked by state officials to send a list of our former queens, with addresses, so they can send an invitation to a special event scheduled early in 1984," he said.

"We have kept up with the addresses of fair queens from the last four years or so, but need help in locating the rest," said Krumrey.

Toys For Tots drive underway in Antioch

The 36th annual Toys For Tots drive, sponsored by the U.S. Marines, is now in high gear with toy barrels located at many locations throughout the area including several in Antioch.

In an effort to meet the demand for toys for needy children, the drive has been extended this year to six weeks.

Lakeland Newspapers offices in Grayslake, Wauconda, Antioch, Fox Lake and North Chicago will once again serve as drop-off stations for the Toys For Tots drive.

Besides the newspaper office at 952 Main St., toys may also be dropped off at American Legion Post 748, 256 Ida Ave.

National chairperson for Toys For Tots is actor William Shatner. Bob Byrne of Amco Tools and president of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce is serving as honorary chairman for Lake and McHenry counties. John T. Case of WBBM radio is once again honorary chairman for the Chicagoland area.

Once again this year, Dominick's Finer Foods will serve as collection points for Toys For Tots, with 78 stores serving the Chicago area and another three expected to open before Christmas.

In addition, the U.S. Marines who are national sponsors of Toys For Tots, have announced that again this year Pepsi Cola General Bottlers in the Chicagoland area will provide pickup service for Toys For Tots from local Dominick's Food Stores.

Toys will be distributed to one of five distribution points.

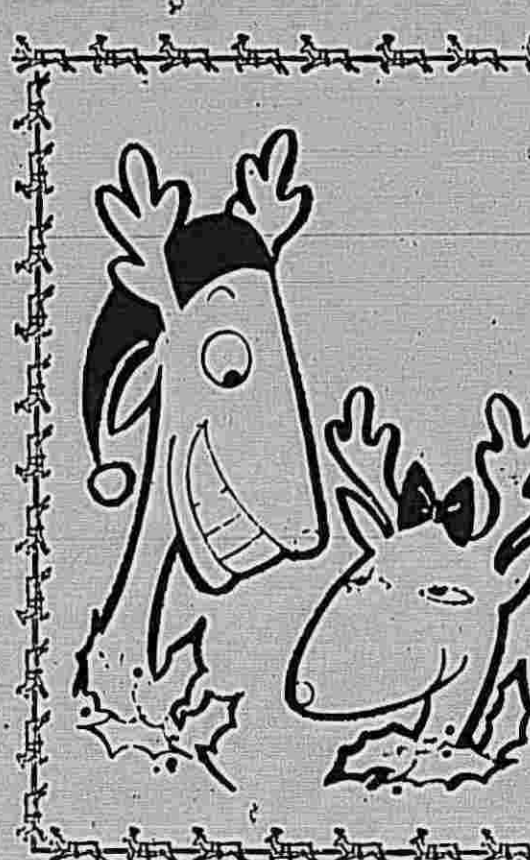

Last year, said Marine Capt. David Winn, the local effort collected over 65,000 toys, triple what it had done two years before. This year the goal is once again 65,000 toys.

"All of our requests for toys, that I'm aware of, were fulfilled," said Winn.

Winn noted that any organization which serves needy children ages infant to 13, can request aid through Toys For Tots. Toys are usually delivered in conjunction with an annual Christmas Party.

This year 10 businesses, six area schools and 16 organizations have established individual toy collection programs to be held at their location during the Toys For Tots campaign. If any individual or group has a large donation to make, they should contact Gunnery Sgt. Phil Suchecki or Sgt. David Hensen at (312) 623-7447 or (312) 244-5517 and the Marines will make an appointment to collect them.

Scout spaghetti so good they come back again

The scouts, parents, and friends of Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 served 550 dinners and over 260 "seconds" and children during their 23rd annual fundraiser at the Antioch Moose Lodge.

Facilities were filled to capacity during the last three hours of this event, one of the busiest dinners ever held.

The evening concluded with an exciting raffle conducted by committee chairman and chief ticket peddler Harold Clark. Dennis Hartman won the football autographed by the Chicago Bears and donated by Corbin's Travel Agency and the Chicago Bears.

Frank Parpart won the $100 bond donated by the First National Bank of Antioch; M. Vynalek won the $50 bond donated by the State Bank of Antioch; Irene Griffin won the AM-FM radio-tape deck donated by Great American Federal Savings & Loan.

Nancy Zeinen won a pair of hiking boots donated by Antioch Family Shoes, and Davis won a travel bag donated by Ebb Tide. Many other fine prizes were awarded throughout the evening.

Form local curling club

Two months ago, area residents hosted a brass band from Germany. This great experience renewed a desire in many to learn more about their heritage and to promote some of the old country customs.

As a result of a meeting held at the Slide Inn on Channel Lake on Thursday, Nov. 3, a Curling Club was formed.

Curling is a European sport similar to shuffle board played on the ice. It is a family sport and it is very common to see a grandfather playing with his grandson.

Frank Heininger, a carpenter contractor from Salem Wisconsin is the organizer and instructor for this group.

Also that evening Kurt Loth of the West End Service Station and Mini-Mart organized a cross country skiing group. Robert A. Sturino from Astrup's Sports in Kenosha gave a demonstration of cross country skiing along with a presentation of new equipment and clothing.

Anyone interested in getting more information about either of these activities can contact Fred or Helen Breuer of the Slide Inn at (312) 395-5280. Remember winter is not far off.

DO-IT-YOURSELF DENTURE KITS

Question:

What about those do-it-yourself denture kits?

Answer:

They are not recommended. They sound like a good idea—easy to use, inexpensive—but in actuality, they can cost you a great deal in health, trouble and money.

Trying to do it yourself, you can damage the denture, making it irreparable. Because of the chemical make-up of the kits' plast-sheets, they do not "cure" properly, and remain semi-hard. Prolonged use can irritate gums, tongue, and cheeks, cause shrunken mouth ridges, chronic and open sores, and even oral cancer. Home-repaired dentures absorb mouth odors, and solvents in the glue used for these kits can damage original dentures and cause chemical burns to all soft tissue.

Ultimately, home-repaired dentures are uncomfortable, unclean, and ineffective. Far smarter to see your dentist, trained in repair work, for any denture problems. You'll feel better, eat better, look better.

Five returnees expect to help Sequoit cagers

Experience might be the key that could open the door to another successful basketball year for the Antioch varsity cagers.

Coach Don Zeman made it through his "rookie" coaching year with a 15-12 record, finishing as conference runnerups last year.

Not only has Zeman gotten his feet wet but the Sequoits will be blessed with five returning lettermen. Tom McClelland, John Humphreys, Steve Mueller, Dan Berkiel and Don Korjenek and another returning vet, Tim Breston.

But the new view for Sequoit caging this year is the transfer from the Northwest Suburban Conference to the North Suburban Conference.

Zeman is banking on the overall over six foot size of the team, lead by Berkiel's six feet six inches.

Concentration on the Sequoits number one fault, poor shooting, is already tops on Zeman's list.

So the Sequoits must have a sound defense to counter their poor shooting abilities.

Zeman plans to use a lot of cutting and tries at two on two or three on three situations to help guarantee that needed strong defense.

The Sequoits height advantage under the basket might help balance their lack of great speed. The man to man defense will also come into common play for that same reason.

The Sequoits officially opened the 1983 cage season with play in the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament that started Nov. 23.

Sequoit cagers win one

The Sequoit varsity cagers are 1-2 overall after the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament. They will face the Mundelein Mustangs, at 8 p.m., on Friday, Dec. 2, at Mundelein, for their first North Suburban Conference game.

The Mustangs overall record is the same as Antioch's and the game bids to be an even one.

The Sequoits edged Barrington, 46-45, in the first tourney game on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

According to Coach Don Zeman, this game was basically won with rebounds. Antioch outrebounded Barrington, 40-21.

Don Korjenek was the leading Sequoit scorer with 14 points. Steve Mueller had 10 points with 16 rebounds and Tom McClelland had two points with seven assists. Both teams were about even in the foul count, Antioch, 13, and Barrington, 12.

In the second game against Libertyville, played on Friday, Nov. 25, the Sequoits, who were leading by four at halftime, slid behind in the third period and just never caught up.

It was the Libertyville Wildcats, 62, and the Sequoits, 53, when the final whistle blew.

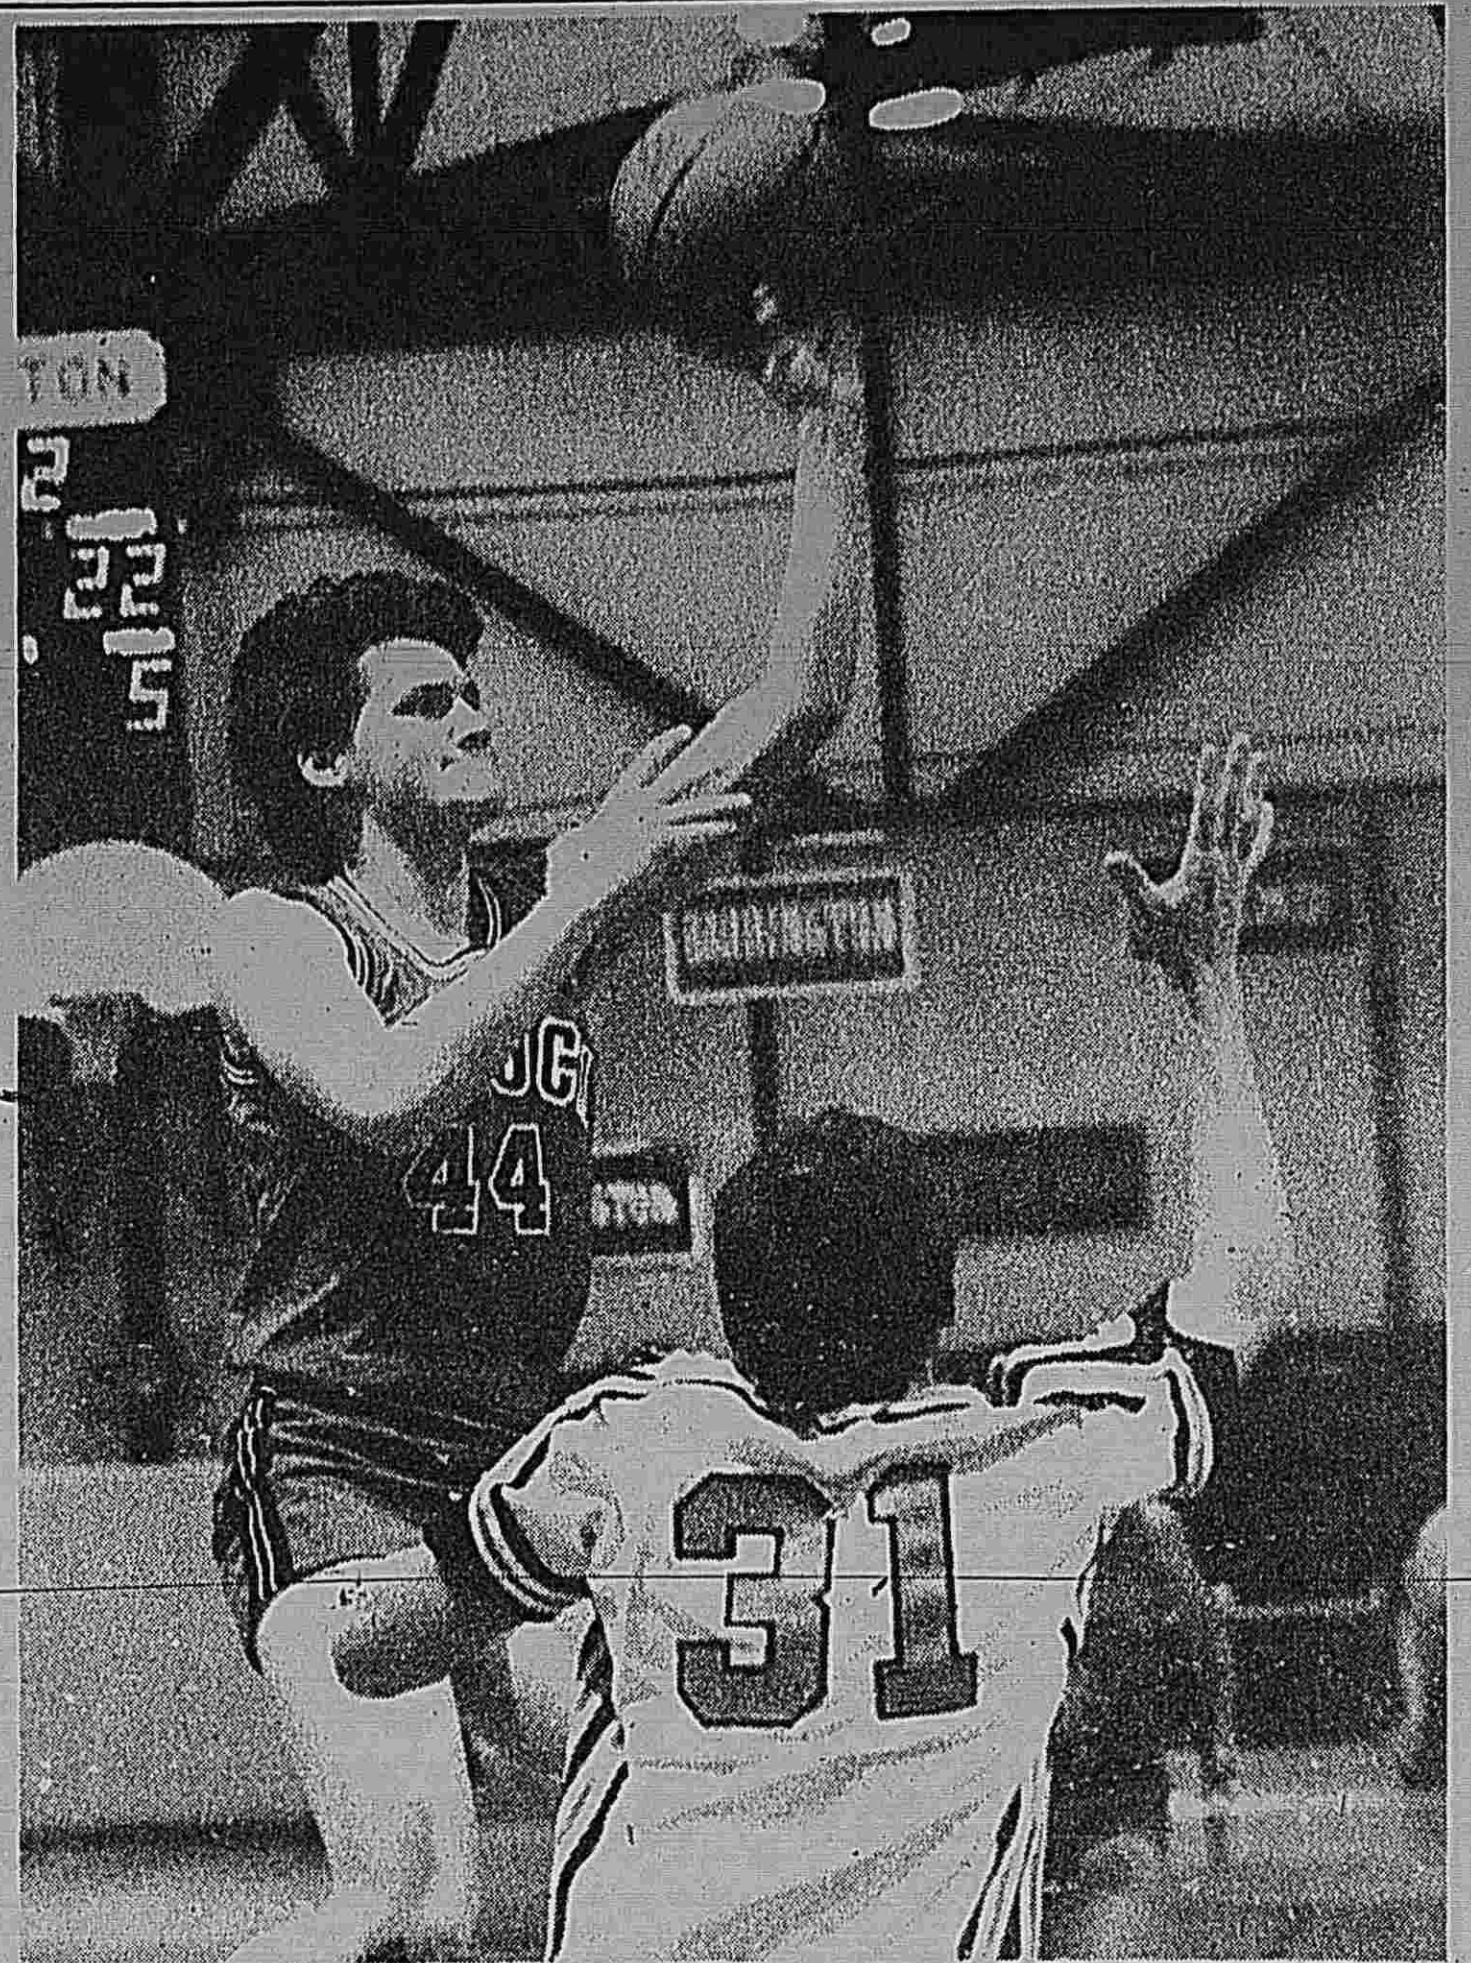

Dan Berkiel and Korjenek were the Sequoit standouts, with Berkiel marking down 20 and nine rebounds, and Korjenek piling up 16 points.

Antioch also lost the third game against Elgin Larkin, 75-66, on Saturday, Nov. 26. According to Zeman, the Sequoits couldn't overcome Elgin's 71 percent shooting. The two Elgin guards combined to score 50 percent against Antioch's zone.

Korjenek and Mueller were the Sequoits' leading scorers, Korjenek credited for 25, scoring 71 percent from the field.

Mueller accounted for 12 of Antioch's points with Berkiel scoring nine and Keim, eight. The Sequoits edged Elgin with 20 fouls to 16.

The forget-me-not is the state flower of Alaska.

and 3-2 in the Iowa Conference.

6 NINA first place awards

Newspapers cited for Antioch Landfill stand

The Antioch News and its sister newspapers in the Lakeland Newspaper group, were awarded 10 individual awards include six first places in the annual Northern Illinois Newspapers Assn. (NINA) competition.

Judging was done by the faculty of the Northern Illinois University (NIU) Journalism Dept.

The newspaper group won a first place citation in the category of Public Service for its coverage, and subsequent editorial position, on the expansion of the Antioch landfill. The entry included contributions from Gloria Davis, Diana Kuyper, Linda Adams and Roger Ruthhart.

The newspapers were also cited for producing the best single advertisement in the competition, an ad it created for restaurants at Hawthorn Shopping Center. It also took an honorable mention in the same category for an ad produced for Rockenbach Chevrolet which appeared in the Round Lake Diamond Jubilee Supplement.

Another first place was awarded in the category of Best Classified Advertising Promotion for Lakeland's Valentines Greeting Ads. Another first place award was presented in the category of Best Circulation Promotion for a unique discount circulation offering.

Finally, judges awarded a first place trophy for Lakeland's sports section, selected the best in northern Illinois in its circulation class.

A second place award was presented in the category of Makeup and Appearance which includes the overall appearance, makeup, printing etc. of the paper.

A photo of a train wreck near Wadsworth brought staff photographer Forrest Muschewski an honorable mention in the category of Best News Photo. Muschewski also won a first place in the category of Feature Photography for a picture of a boy swimming which appeared in the Grayslake Times.

Finally, Sports Editor Michael Babicz was awarded a third place in the category of Best Sports Story for his feature story on Linda Usrey of Fox Lake who was a triathlon competitor who had also qualified for the Boston Marathon.

In all, there were 47 papers which competed in this year's contest and over 300 entries. Winners were announced at a luncheon at NIU which was part of the 22nd annual fall NINA competition.

The first police force in America consisted of a "Rattle Watch" of eight men, established in the colony of New Amsterdam in 1658.
